Content	Vistas del mundoÖ is a leveled literacy resource showcasing 19 nations with five different genres representing each country. The genres consist of nonfiction photo essays, fictional stories, biographies of notable figures, and math and science titles for grades 3û6. Explicit instruction in fluency, reading comprehension, and vocabulary with additional opportunities for building critical literacy skills are the foundational tenets of this series. Not only does Vistas del mundoÖ offer insights into people of Hispanic heritage and many other cultures, but each story contains a character lesson that promotes basic values like honesty, kindness, respect, and courage. With a host of visual features and text organizers built into each book, students gain greater meaning from the passages. Going deeper, with a teacherÆs guidance, studentss have the opportunity to examine meaning within text, form opinions, and understand their responsibilities to our global community.
Student Experiences	Vistas del mundoÖ develops studentsÆ experiences with various genres while highlighting the common values we share around the globe. In the nonfiction photo essays, students are introduced through their reading to children from faraway lands and the places they call home. In the fiction titles, students read about the values, art, and culture of each country, including traditional folktales, contemporary stories, myths, mysteries, plays, and verse. Vistas del mundoÖ biographies allow students to think critically about key events and the impact one individual can have. Navigating through textual components such as table of contents, glossaries, and appendices assists students with fluency and text development. Award-winning photographers and illustrators add to the student experience with accompanying visuals.
Assessment	Each Vistas del mundoÖ TeacherÆs Notes is written in Spanish and includes a During Reading section with detailed instructions for teaching specific skills and assessments for each section of the book. In addition, each book has three blackline masters that are perfect for extension activities or assessments. The After Reading section addresses ways to foster comprehension, writing, and vocabulary and can be used for informal assessments.
Organization	The easy-to-follow yet comprehensive Vistas del mundoÖ TeacherÆs Notes provide strategic, explicit instruction in fluency, comprehension, and vocabulary in a studentÆs native language. The consistent organization of the Teacher Notes for each book provides a synopsis, learning outcomes, a list of visual elements in the story, and an overview of skills that are covered. Focus on Fluency gives suggestions for developing fluency and other essential literacy skills. The teacher support provides before, during, and after reading activities to promote specific literacy skills and provide assessments. Each country encompasses the five genres aforementioned and is organized according to grade level.

Content	Vistas del mundoÖ is a leveled literacy resource showcasing 19 nations with five different genres representing each country. The genres consist of nonfiction photo essays, fictional stories, biographies of notable figures, and math and science titles for grades 3û6. Explicit instruction in fluency, reading comprehension, and vocabulary with additional opportunities for building critical literacy skills are the foundational tenets of this series. Not only does Vistas del mundoÖ offer insights into people of Hispanic heritage and many other cultures, but each story contains a character lesson that promotes basic values like honesty, kindness, respect, and courage. With a host of visual features and text organizers built into each book, students gain greater meaning from the passages. Going deeper, with a teacherÆs guidance, studentss have the opportunity to examine meaning within text, form opinions, and understand their responsibilities to our global community.
Student Experiences	Vistas del mundoÖ develops studentsÆ experiences with various genres while highlighting the common values we share around the globe. In the nonfiction photo essays, students are introduced through their reading to children from faraway lands and the places they call home. In the fiction titles, students read about the values, art, and culture of each country, including traditional folktales, contemporary stories, myths, mysteries, plays, and verse. Vistas del mundoÖ biographies allow students to think critically about key events and the impact one individual can have. Navigating through textual components such as table of contents, glossaries, and appendices assists students with fluency and text development. Award-winning photographers and illustrators add to the student experience with accompanying visuals.
Assessment	Each Vistas del mundoÖ TeacherÆs Notes is written in Spanish and includes a During Reading section with detailed instructions for teaching specific skills and assessments for each section of the book. In addition, each book has three blackline masters that are perfect for extension activities or assessments. The After Reading section addresses ways to foster comprehension, writing, and vocabulary and can be used for informal assessments.
Organization	The easy-to-follow yet comprehensive Vistas del mundoÖ TeacherÆs Notes provide strategic, explicit instruction in fluency, comprehension, and vocabulary in a studentÆs native language. Recommendations: Vistas Del Mundo is the Worldscapes program for Spanish-speaking readers. The teachers guide is in English with scripts in Spanish for speaking to kids. Everything else is the same as the Worldscapes program.
This program promotes reading by taking seven countries around the world and providing three books (informative, fiction, biography). Obvious tie-in with social studies.
Teacher's notes are brief, but thorough. Would be used in small group or independent learning. Teachers who want whole class instruction would not like this. Books are slim (not intimidating) and have engaging photos and text.

Content	Vistas del mundoÖ is a leveled literacy resource showcasing 19 nations with five different genres representing each country. The genres consist of nonfiction photo essays, fictional stories, biographies of notable figures, and math and science titles for grades 3û6. Explicit instruction in fluency, reading comprehension, and vocabulary with additional opportunities for building critical literacy skills are the foundational tenets of this series. Not only does Vistas del mundoÖ offer insights into people of Hispanic heritage and many other cultures, but each story contains a character lesson that promotes basic values like honesty, kindness, respect, and courage. With a host of visual features and text organizers built into each book, students gain greater meaning from the passages. Going deeper, with a teacherÆs guidance, studentss have the opportunity to examine meaning within text, form opinions, and understand their responsibilities to our global community.
Student Experiences	Vistas del mundoÖ develops studentsÆ experiences with various genres while highlighting the common values we share around the globe. In the nonfiction photo essays, students are introduced through their reading to children from faraway lands and the places they call home. In the fiction titles, students read about the values, art, and culture of each country, including traditional folktales, contemporary stories, myths, mysteries, plays, and verse. Vistas del mundoÖ biographies allow students to think critically about key events and the impact one individual can have. Navigating through textual components such as table of contents, glossaries, and appendices assists students with fluency and text development. Award-winning photographers and illustrators add to the student experience with accompanying visuals.
Assessment	Each Vistas del mundoÖ TeacherÆs Notes is written in Spanish and includes a During Reading section with detailed instructions for teaching specific skills and assessments for each section of the book. In addition, each book has three blackline masters that are perfect for extension activities or assessments. The After Reading section addresses ways to foster comprehension, writing, and vocabulary and can be used for informal assessments.

Content	Vistas del mundoÖ is a leveled literacy resource showcasing 19 nations with five different genres representing each country. The genres consist of nonfiction photo essays, fictional stories, biographies of notable figures, and math and science titles for grades 3û6. Explicit instruction in fluency, reading comprehension, and vocabulary with additional opportunities for building critical literacy skills are the foundational tenets of this series. Not only does Vistas del mundoÖ offer insights into people of Hispanic heritage and many other cultures, but each story contains a character lesson that promotes basic values like honesty, kindness, respect, and courage. With a host of visual features and text organizers built into each book, students gain greater meaning from the passages. Going deeper, with a teacherÆs guidance, studentss have the opportunity to examine meaning within text, form opinions, and understand their responsibilities to our global community.
Student Experiences	Vistas del mundoÖ develops studentsÆ experiences with various genres while highlighting the common values we share around the globe. In the nonfiction photo essays, students are introduced through their reading to children from faraway lands and the places they call home. In the fiction titles, students read about the values, art, and culture of each country, including traditional folktales, contemporary stories, myths, mysteries, plays, and verse. Vistas del mundoÖ biographies allow students to think critically about key events and the impact one individual can have. Navigating through textual components such as table of contents, glossaries, and appendices assists students with fluency and text development. Award-winning photographers and illustrators add to the student experience with accompanying visuals.
Assessment	Each Vistas del mundoÖ TeacherÆs Notes is written in Spanish and includes a During Reading section with detailed instructions for teaching specific skills and assessments for each section of the book. In addition, each book has three blackline masters that are perfect for extension activities or assessments. The After Reading section addresses ways to foster comprehension, writing, and vocabulary and can be used for informal assessments.
Organization	The easy-to-follow yet comprehensive Vistas del mundoÖ TeacherÆs Notes provide strategic, explicit instruction in fluency, comprehension, and vocabulary in a studentÆs native language. The consistent organization of the Teacher Notes for each book provides a synopsis, learning outcomes, a list of visual elements in the story, and an overview of skills that are covered. Focus on Fluency gives suggestions for developing fluency and other essential literacy skills. The teacher support provides before, during, and after reading activities to promote specific literacy skills and provide assessments. Each country encompasses the five genres aforementioned and is organized according to grade level.

Content	Vistas del mundoÖ is a leveled literacy resource showcasing 19 nations with five different genres representing each country. The genres consist of nonfiction photo essays, fictional stories, biographies of notable figures, and math and science titles for grades 3û6. Explicit instruction in fluency, reading comprehension, and vocabulary with additional opportunities for building critical literacy skills are the foundational tenets of this series. Not only does Vistas del mundoÖ offer insights into people of Hispanic heritage and many other cultures, but each story contains a character lesson that promotes basic values like honesty, kindness, respect, and courage. With a host of visual features and text organizers built into each book, students gain greater meaning from the passages. Going deeper, with a teacherÆs guidance, studentss have the opportunity to examine meaning within text, form opinions, and understand their responsibilities to our global community.
Student Experiences	Vistas del mundoÖ develops studentsÆ experiences with various genres while highlighting the common values we share around the globe. In the nonfiction photo essays, students are introduced through their reading to children from faraway lands and the places they call home. In the fiction titles, students read about the values, art, and culture of each country, including traditional folktales, contemporary stories, myths, mysteries, plays, and verse. Vistas del mundoÖ biographies allow students to think critically about key events and the impact one individual can have. Navigating through textual components such as table of contents, glossaries, and appendices assists students with fluency and text development. Award-winning photographers and illustrators add to the student experience with accompanying visuals.
Assessment	Each Vistas del mundoÖ TeacherÆs Notes is written in Spanish and includes a During Reading section with detailed instructions for teaching specific skills and assessments for each section of the book. In addition, each book has three blackline masters that are perfect for extension activities or assessments. The After Reading section addresses ways to foster comprehension, writing, and vocabulary and can be used for informal assessments.

Content	Vistas del mundoÖ is a leveled literacy resource showcasing 19 nations with five different genres representing each country. The genres consist of nonfiction photo essays, fictional stories, biographies of notable figures, and math and science titles for grades 3û6. Explicit instruction in fluency, reading comprehension, and vocabulary with additional opportunities for building critical literacy skills are the foundational tenets of this series. Not only does Vistas del mundoÖ offer insights into people of Hispanic heritage and many other cultures, but each story contains a character lesson that promotes basic values like honesty, kindness, respect, and courage. With a host of visual features and text organizers built into each book, students gain greater meaning from the passages. Going deeper, with a teacherÆs guidance, studentss have the opportunity to examine meaning within text, form opinions, and understand their responsibilities to our global community.
Student Experiences	Vistas del mundoÖ develops studentsÆ experiences with various genres while highlighting the common values we share around the globe. In the nonfiction photo essays, students are introduced through their reading to children from faraway lands and the places they call home. In the fiction titles, students read about the values, art, and culture of each country, including traditional folktales, contemporary stories, myths, mysteries, plays, and verse. Vistas del mundoÖ biographies allow students to think critically about key events and the impact one individual can have. Navigating through textual components such as table of contents, glossaries, and appendices assists students with fluency and text development. Award-winning photographers and illustrators add to the student experience with accompanying visuals.
Assessment	Each Vistas del mundoÖ TeacherÆs Notes is written in Spanish and includes a During Reading section with detailed instructions for teaching specific skills and assessments for each section of the book. In addition, each book has three blackline masters that are perfect for extension activities or assessments. The After Reading section addresses ways to foster comprehension, writing, and vocabulary and can be used for informal assessments.
Organization	The easy-to-follow yet comprehensive Vistas del mundoÖ TeacherÆs Notes provide strategic, explicit instruction in fluency, comprehension, and vocabulary in a studentÆs native language. The consistent organization of the Teacher Notes for each book provides a synopsis, learning outcomes, a list of visual elements in the story, and an overview of skills that are covered. Focus on Fluency gives suggestions for developing fluency and other essential literacy skills. The teacher support provides before, during, and after reading activities to promote specific literacy skills and provide assessments. Each country encompasses the five genres aforementioned and is organized according to grade level.

Going deeper, with a teacherÆs guidance, studentss have the opportunity to examine meaning within text, form opinions, and understand their responsibilities to our global community.
Student Experiences	Vistas del mundoÖ develops studentsÆ experiences with various genres while highlighting the common values we share around the globe. In the nonfiction photo essays, students are introduced through their reading to children from faraway lands and the places they call home. In the fiction titles, students read about the values, art, and culture of each country, including traditional folktales, contemporary stories, myths, mysteries, plays, and verse. Vistas del mundoÖ biographies allow students to think critically about key events and the impact one individual can have. Navigating through textual components such as table of contents, glossaries, and appendices assists students with fluency and text development. Award-winning photographers and illustrators add to the student experience with accompanying visuals.
Assessment	Each Vistas del mundoÖ TeacherÆs Notes is written in Spanish and includes a During Reading section with detailed instructions for teaching specific skills and assessments for each section of the book. In addition, each book has three blackline masters that are perfect for extension activities or assessments. The After Reading section addresses ways to foster comprehension, writing, and vocabulary and can be used for informal assessments.
Organization	The easy-to-follow yet comprehensive Vistas del mundoÖ TeacherÆs Notes provide strategic, explicit instruction in fluency, comprehension, and vocabulary in a studentÆs native language. The consistent organization of the Teacher Notes for each book provides a synopsis, learning outcomes, a list of visual elements in the story, and an overview of skills that are covered. Focus on Fluency gives suggestions for developing fluency and other essential literacy skills. The teacher support provides before, during, and after reading activities to promote specific literacy skills and provide assessments. Each country encompasses the five genres aforementioned and is organized according to grade level.

The features of each book or program were developed by the publisher and do not reflect the opinion of the Kentucky State Review Team Kentucky State Textbook Commission or the Kentucky Department of Education.

Content	Vistas del mundo is a leveled literacy resource showcasing 19 nations with five different genres representing each country. The genres consist of nonfiction photo essays, fictional stories, biographies of notable figures, and math and science titles for grades 3-6. Explicit instruction in fluency, reading comprehension, and vocabulary with additional opportunities for building critical literacy skills are the foundational tenets of this series. Not only does Vistas del mundo offer insights into people of Hispanic heritage and many other cultures, but each story contains a character lesson that promotes basic values like honesty, kindness, respect, and courage. With a host of visual features and text organizers built into each book, students gain greater meaning from the passages. Going deeper, with a teacher's guidance, students have the opportunity to examine meaning within text, form opinions, and understand their responsibilities to our global community.
Student Experiences	Vistas del mundo develops students' experiences with various genres while highlighting the common values we share around the globe. In the nonfiction photo essays, students are introduced through their reading to children from faraway lands and the places they call home. In the fiction titles, students read about the values, art, and culture of each country, including traditional folktales, contemporary stories, myths, mysteries, plays, and verse. Vistas del mundo biographies allow students to think critically about key events and the impact one individual can have. Navigating through textual components such as table of contents, glossaries, and appendices assists students with fluency and text development. Award-winning photographers and illustrators add to the student experience with accompanying visuals.
Assessment	Each Vistas del mundo Teacher's Notes is written in Spanish and includes a During Reading section with detailed instructions for teaching specific skills and assessments for each section of the book. In addition, each book has three blackline masters that are perfect for extension activities or assessments. The After Reading section addresses ways to foster comprehension, writing, and vocabulary and can be used for informal assessments.
Organization	The easy-to-follow yet comprehensive Vistas del mundo Teacher's Notes provide strategic, explicit instruction in fluency, comprehension, and vocabulary in a student's native language. The consistent organization of the Teacher Notes for each book provides a synopsis, learning outcomes, a list of visual elements in the story, and an overview of skills that are covered. Focus on Fluency gives suggestions for developing fluency and other essential literacy skills. The teacher support provides before, during, and after reading activities to promote specific literacy skills and provide assessments. Each country encompasses the five genres aforementioned and is organized according to grade level.

Content	Vistas del mundoÖ is a leveled literacy resource showcasing 19 nations with five different genres representing each country. The genres consist of nonfiction photo essays, fictional stories, biographies of notable figures, and math and science titles for grades 3û6. Explicit instruction in fluency, reading comprehension, and vocabulary with additional opportunities for building critical literacy skills are the foundational tenets of this series. Not only does Vistas del mundoÖ offer insights into people of Hispanic heritage and many other cultures, but each story contains a character lesson that promotes basic values like honesty, kindness, respect, and courage. With a host of visual features and text organizers built into each book, students gain greater meaning from the passages. Going deeper, with a teacherÆs guidance, studentss have the opportunity to examine meaning within text, form opinions, and understand their responsibilities to our global community.
Student Experiences	Vistas del mundoÖ develops studentsÆ experiences with various genres while highlighting the common values we share around the globe. In the nonfiction photo essays, students are introduced through their reading to children from faraway lands and the places they call home. In the fiction titles, students read about the values, art, and culture of each country, including traditional folktales, contemporary stories, myths, mysteries, plays, and verse. Vistas del mundoÖ biographies allow students to think critically about key events and the impact one individual can have. Navigating through textual components such as table of contents, glossaries, and appendices assists students with fluency and text development. Award-winning photographers and illustrators add to the student experience with accompanying visuals.
Assessment	Each Vistas del mundoÖ TeacherÆs Notes is written in Spanish and includes a During Reading section with detailed instructions for teaching specific skills and assessments for each section of the book. In addition, each book has three blackline masters that are perfect for extension activities or assessments. The After Reading section addresses ways to foster comprehension, writing, and vocabulary and can be used for informal assessments.
Organization	The easy-to-follow yet comprehensive Vistas del mundoÖ TeacherÆs Notes provide strategic, explicit instruction in fluency, comprehension, and vocabulary in a studentÆs native language. The consistent organization of the Teacher Notes for each book provides a synopsis, learning outcomes, a list of visual elements in the story, and an overview of skills that are covered. Focus on Fluency gives suggestions for developing fluency and other essential literacy skills. The teacher support provides before, during, and after reading activities to promote specific literacy skills and provide assessments. Each country encompasses the five genres aforementioned and is organized according to grade level.
